
Jeep Freaks

Anybody else here a jeep freak? I love 'em, and can't wait to buy another. Eric Smith recently sent me a pic of a sweet CJ he saw at a local car show.

Also check out michiganjeepers.com if you are into Jeeps. It is a very active community of Jeepers across Michigan. http://www.ottawacountydsa.com/components/com_joomlaboard/uploaded/images/DSC01476.jpg

I have a 1989 jeep wrangler in the garage I've been working on. I have it down to the frame. (Kids came along and reeeeeaaaaaalllly slowed things down). It's a work in progress, and having fun with it. I just got the rear axle off the frame and need to get the front one off, then I can get the frame blasted and painted. I should mention that torx head bolts are the worst thing I have ever seen. Time and money are the biggest obstacle right know. I really miss driving the thing especially when it's 80+ degrees outside.

The only thing I want to add is that Jeeps blow! I can spend all day long listening to "Jeep guys" talk about "add-ons" they have done, and at the end of the day I will be pulling all of you out of the holes with my '79 IH Scout II. Let me add that all those "add-ons" that you guys spent money on came stock on my Scout!

C-ya!!!

I have a couple "Add-Ons" for you to buy Ben. First, I think you need to "Add-On" a new Transmission so this Scout of yours will go down the road. Second, I think you need to "Add-On" a new carburetor so again this Scout of yours will go down the road.

Derick,

First, you can try to mock and ridicule me, but those two items will be resolved as soon as Spring arrives. They would be fixed now, but the Scout is stored winters.

Second, how is that Datsun working out for you?

JERK!!! :P

Spring time of what year? Does your wife know you are spending money recklessly? Just because your vehicle isn't running doesn't mean it's " in storage"
